Resist high impact multi-skin acrylic sheet

Be on the Safe Side with ACRYLITE®

Sunlight contains a large proportion of harmful UV radiation. Just as sunlight can damage our skin, it can cause dramatic destructive changes in most plastics. When new, transparent plastics all look more or less the same, but after a few years of outdoor exposure they may turn yellow or brown, and become unsightly. Products that contain natural UV protection throughout the material are best equipped, ACRYLITE® has such stable UV protection technology.
